Williamsport, PA 17701

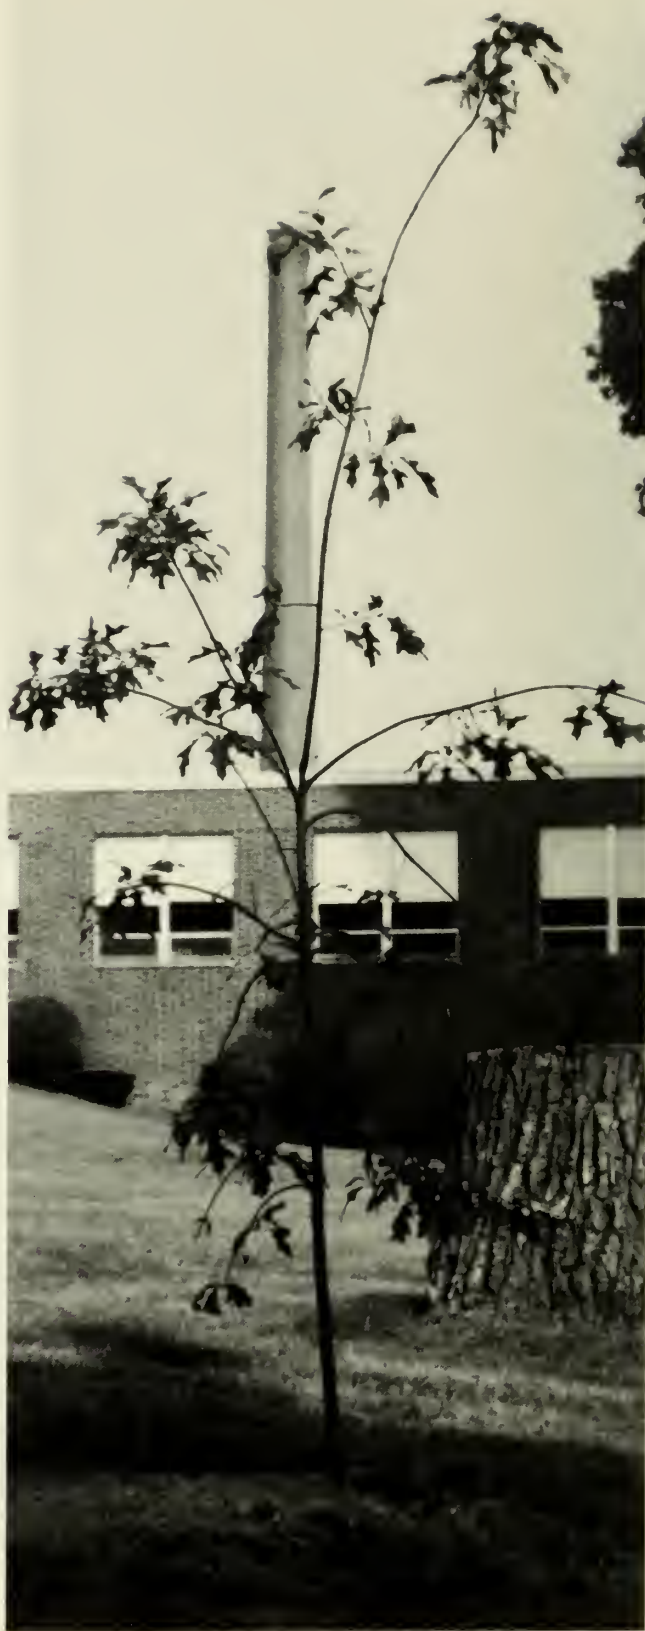

Once Upon A Time . . .

. . . We came here as freshman, some of us young and inexperienced, others older and starting a new career. But we all had the desire and determination to succeed.

In these three years we've grown in confidence and maturity, while learning the knowledge of our chosen profession.

Fortunately, we've had help along the way. Not only from our instructors, families and friends, but from among ourselves. There's a special place in everyone of us that acknowledges the support we needed and received from each other as we experienced the same problems throughout our time at TWHSN.

With this yearbook we would like to share those times, during the past three years, that have brought us to our happy ending — and a new beginning.

Believe it or not — I survived!!

My very first stripe!

Dreams come true.

Rock-a-bye baby . . .

DEDICATION

The class of 1986 is dedicating our yearbook to an instructor who, for three years, has fulfilled her teaching obligations and more. Besides being a teacher, she has been a friend, a mentor, and someone who has just been there for us. Always willing to listen to our problems, she's offered constructive criticism and advice to us all and shown by example how one can be a competent and sympathetic nurse, whose main goal is the welfare of her patient. She's brought an enthusiasm for the health care profession into each of her lectures and carried this quality over into every individual encounter with her students.

Thank you Karen Peterman for giving us the help and encouragement to follow our beliefs and chosen profession.

RECOGNITION

Our class would like to recognize the efforts of Mrs. Connie Perry — our financial aid officer. Without her help and advice many of us would have found it impossible to continue our education. She has gone out of her way to be a friend to each of us and to make our payments as painless as possible.

Thank you Mrs. Perry.

PEOPLE

Our life at TWHSN revolved around People — namely our fellow students . . .

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

... And the instructors who guided us to our moment of triumph.

Pant, Pant, Pant, Blow!

Joe Cool?

Justice is not only blind, but deaf and dumb.

Mrs. Derr assumed her position as Director of the School of Nursing in 1983, the year our class started. We have learned and grown together. She has stood behind us and for us with problems that have risen during our time here. In addition to being our Director she has also been a friend.

Mrs. Eleanor Derr, Director of Nursing Education

Williamsport's budding Rembrandt.

Mr. Creamer joined us as CEO in the spring of 1984. With his leadership we have entered the era of DRG's and prospective payments. Though many changes are taking place, TWH still maintains quality care.

Mr. Donald Creamer, CEO

Mrs. Carol Leathers, Clerk-typist

Mrs. Connie Perry, Financial Aid Officer

So which one has to make the coffee?

Mrs. Brenda Scott, Nursing Education Secretary

Mrs. Gladys Cellini, Residence Director

Mr. Michael Heyd, Director Of Learning Resource Center

The three wisemen they ain't.

Ms. Nancy Hood

Fundamentals I & II Nursing I

This is where it all began
Starting out as a lowly freshman.
Learning about Florence, acid-base
And giving shots in the proper place.
Don't forget making (drinking) milkshakes
And seeing how much SSE one can take.
Of course nothing can compare at all
To writing a twelve page anecdotal.
But some of our best times to remember
Was walking to Lyco in mid-December.

Miss Karen Peterman

Mrs. Anne Kremski

Just how long do I have to look interested?

They look so normal!!

Go tell it on the mountain Dr. Freud!

Psychiatric Nursing

Oh gee! Wasn't it just DIVINE!
To finally figure out the WAY
Of everyone's convoluted mind,
And to know just what to say.
Acting out in group and learning
UNO
Enabled us to see the light —
That what you read and what you know
Doesn't always prove Freud was right.

Mrs. Mary Ellen
Rosencrance

Mrs. Laurie Guise

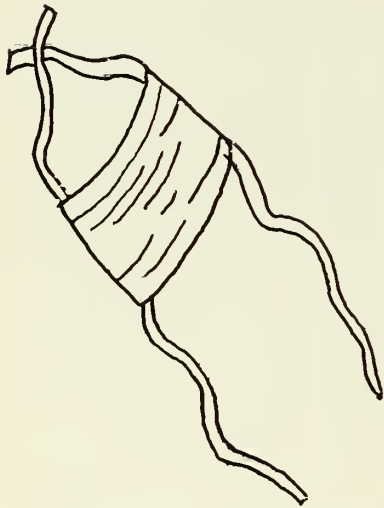

Surgery

Our passage should be immortalized!
Through the field of the sterilized.
With hats and masks and booties
That covered our faces and shaking footies.
Changing dressings and giving shots
Under the eagle eyes of Maria, Kathy and Dot.
Who can forget that imperious finger of Mrs. G's
Beckoning us through the window in surgery,
The questions about anatomy and operations
That couldn't be answered without trepidation.
But the ten weeks were finally over and done
And to our surprise, some of us actually had fun.

Mrs. Maria Gustafson

Who knows what dark and devious thoughts lurk behind these faces?

Right: Hewy, Dewy and Louie!

Far right:

Mrs. Kathy Temple

Mrs. Shirley Young

Mrs. Shirley Siegfried

above: Presenting . . . Our very own Kenny and Dolly!

Rehab

Sticks and stones
 May break your bones,
 But with P.M.&R. and more P.T.
 Mending should be easy.
 Yes we learned "On Old Olympus Towering Tops
 . . ."
 But 32 pages of nerves pulled out all the stops.
 Crutches, canes, walkers and traction —
 Parading with these made us an attraction,
 In order to become more "self-aware"
 We muddled through with all this hardware.
 But best of all our Rehab memories
 Was the last day's breakfast at Elby's.

Obstetrics

Isn't she sweet! Look at the baby!
Wasn't she worth the labor and delivery?
Where did all the diapers go?
And how was I to know
To cover the boys with a blanket
In order to avoid getting wet.
Now that we can answer a new mother's query
Can we come out of the nursery?

Mrs. Patty Jansson

Mrs. Pat Green

Mrs. Dottie Mathers

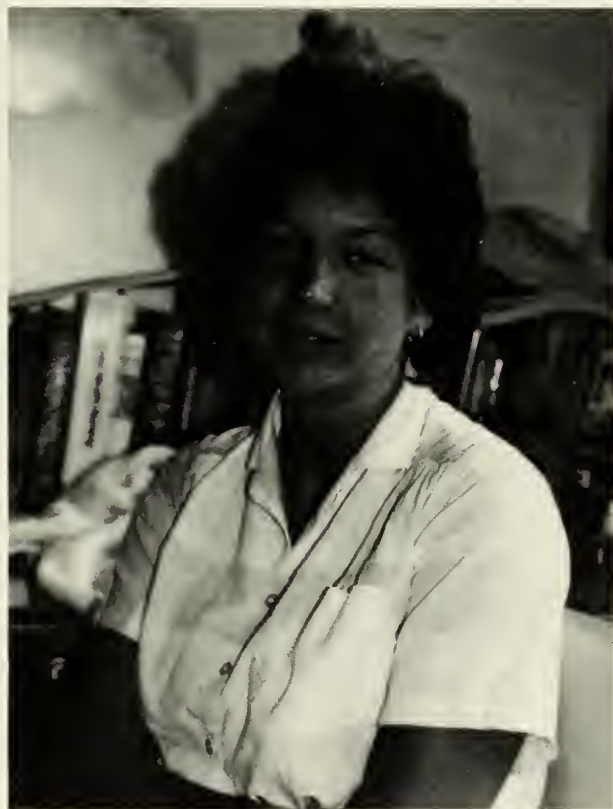

Would you trust your kids to these people?

Pediatrics

Oh no! Another paper on G and D!
 Who would have thought to look and see
 In which tooth the kid had his cavity.
 Thank goodness it's over and done
 And we don't have to do another one.
 No more late nights and cramps in our hands
 And trying to soothe those young hooligans,
 Especially since we know that our best qualities
 Involve bedpans, games and lots of TLC.

Mrs. Mary Ann Keller

Mrs. Dottie Frank

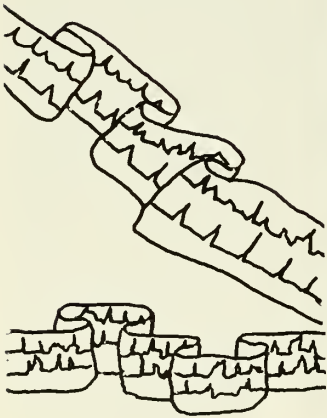

Intensive Care

Who invented all these machines that blink?
Where does one hook up this tube that leaks?
Come on Jeanne! You don't really think
That we can learn this all in just 10 weeks!
By Golly! We did remember all those cardiac meds!
No wonder some of us have lost our heads.
And with EMR, IMC, CCU, and ICU
Learning the alphabet was all some of us could do.

What do you mean he's not breathing?

Mrs. Jeanne Dunkle

Miss Judy Coup

I've got the "Cat in Heat Blues".

I just love cultural events!

And you thought you had to be normal to work ICU.

Is this how you earned your way through school Ms. Hood?

Should we drop the balloons now?

FRESHMEN

I'll bet Bo Derek didn't have to start this way.

Mmm . . . good!

What did you say?

Did you leave anything at home for us?

I can't believe it, I'm finally here!

STUDENT LIFE

You mean you have to hold someone down to help them?

You really ought to turn the television on if you want to watch it, Alice.

Taking lots of notes girls?

Testing the gag reflex.

Friend of yours, Diane?

What a beautiful day to wash cars.

Let it snow, let it snow, let it snow.

REMEMBER WHEN'S

- ... Tina R. had to climb through the window our first day here?
- ... Alice took hot water bottles out of the trash and got caught?
- ... The mad rush to leave on Fridays?
- ... "Who's to say?"
- ... The toilets never flushed?
- ... We used to have a game and card room?
- ... Ms. Hood said we should use mirrors when studying how to do female cath's?
- ... We had a snow day at Lyco?
- ... The day we heard TWHSN was closing?
- ... Lisa B. fell asleep when she should have been "pushing"?
- ... Kim added to the brown stain on the ceiling of ICU?
- ... Why Gail eats a lot of milk and cheese?
- ... We thought ½ day of clinical per week was exhausting?
- ... Lisa B. had 10 easy steps to self rectal exams?
- ... Beth became psychotic and neurotic on Thursday nights?
- ... Tom went running to tell Ms. Hood his patient had a "BM" on the floor and then was told to clean it up?
- ... "You just don't smear cake on t.v.'s?"
- ... Holly's biggest mover is "Herb-lax?"
- ... Patty wasn't hungry?
- ... Tom always caught at least one person undressed on his visits?
- ... Mrs. G. smiled — at the end of our junior year?
- ... going to the OR as a senior and just waving to "The Interrogator"?
- ... Kim and Sharon had to be "dragged to safety" during a fire drill?
- ... Our first fire drill — 2:00 AM the night before clinical?
- ... Patty's patient hallucinated about a spider on the floor, asked Patty to step on it — which she did and asked the patient if she got it?
- ... The Nursing II group on 5 Medical left Kim and John to face Mrs. G alone on the last day?
- ... Diane would ask, "Is it June yet?" starting August 28?
- ... Mrs. K "lost her plug"?
- ... Our first clinical experience?
- ... Mrs. G's unrelenting desire to find fluid losses for every surgery patient?
- ... Diane burped in Pharmacology class?
- ... Our first shot — to a patient?
- ... Our first day in the OR?
- ... Our first day here?
- ... "Crunchy frogs" and "norts"?
- ... Gail A. asked Ms. Hood "Are them real?"
- ... We were initiated, but ...
- ... We got the freshmen next year?
- ... Our class ever came to a unanimous decision?

DORM LIVING

A student nurse Holly, not a covergirl!

Exotic Ann — the Sun Goddess.

STUDYING

If the studying doesn't kill me, the phone will!

I really and truly like to study. Honest!

Studying, we all had to do it. However, we each did it our own way. Some had to do it alone, while others did better in a group. There were those of us who studied all the time, and there were some who only needed a short period to get everything. But we all learned to adapt — especially to noise.

Honest, the ultraviolet rays enhance our ability to study.

LEARNING LABS

"Tiny Bubbles!"

I get 98.6-60-24. Or was that . . .

Girls! Girls! There's a wrinkle!

Every week for a year we had a learning lab. This meant last minute cramming for the quiz and wondering if we'd pass the practicum. Besides having to learn how to do all those things — we had to do them to each other.

Do we practice on each other?

I have a pulse!

Open your mouth ...

So Gail, tell me about Fatty Liver Disease.

Clinical — This was where we applied our classroom knowledge and skills. It was going to bed at midnight and getting up at 0500. But it was also here that we achieved our greatest sense of accomplishment.

See Nurse, this is how you do it.

Sue, we're not wearing tassels this year.

SIGNIFICANT OTHERS

Although some of us were short of funds and some were short of time, one thing we all had was moral support. From our families, boyfriends, girlfriends, husbands, and wives we had the needed love and encouragement to continue. One support system that was invaluable was our classmates and friends. They were always there and knew what we were going through. Thanks.

I thought you said you studied on weekends, Holly?

When you're desperate for love — everything counts.

School of Nursing In Final Chapter

Right: What happens now?

The way they were.

It will be hard to realize that after 1988 there won't be any TWHSN. None of us will forget being called to Med Hall to be told, by Mr. Creamer that the school was to be closed. Although there had been rumors, the official notification was still a shock. It will be difficult to imagine that no one will be learning how to give enemas, take BP's, coach pregnant mothers, give injections and IV meds, answer questions by instructors, study for tests, meet lots of interesting people, soothe crying children or having the satisfaction of knowing you graduated from the best and oldest diploma school in the state. We'll miss you TWHSN.

Right: The way we are.

We wish you a Merry Christmas!

Our three years at TWHSN have drawn to a close — we are ready to graduate and face the future. We hope this yearbook was able to give you a glimpse of what our time at school has been like. It encompasses our struggles and our accomplishments.

We started out, once upon a time, as young, inexperienced but eager, freshmen and grew into mature, responsible nurses. We still have our hopes and dreams but now they're bigger and closer. We won't ever forget our life at TWHSN — the knowledge we gained, the friends we made and the growing we did.
